

Jefferson County Schools-

Your School Can Receive an ENC Donation in 2017.

Teachers- Encourage your students to tell everyone why they love to read and create a winning ebook.

The “I Love To Read” Contest is

Sponsored by ENC: Education Nonprofit Organization

ENC would like to invite you to participate in a challenge to support “Why reading is so important to a child’s life and their learning experience?”

Ask your students to create a page for your school’s I Love to Read book. In 2017, Kyffin Elementary students entered a school wide contest and created the Kyffin I Love to Read book. When students create a page for their school’s book this benefits students and your school. Students will begin brainstorming about why reading is so important to them.

Writing & Art Criteria for Contest

Please have your students complete the following statement:

I love to read _____ and then create an illustration to go along with their statement.

Criteria is to please place the illustration on a 8 X 11 normal sheet of paper with only one statement that explains why they love to read.*

We are inviting all grade levels to participate in this contest. Teachers if you can choose 5 students from your class that you believe have shown you their passion for why they Love to Read with the above criteria. From those 5 winners, a committee will choose one student's work from each classroom to go on to be entered in the Jefferson County wide contest. A final book will be selected by the committee. Winners for the final Jefferson County ebook will be awarded a Tattered Cover Books Gift Card for their "I Love to Read" statement and illustration! The winning school will receive an ENC donation and the ebook will be posted on the ENC website. Additional information concerning future publication will be submitted to the student and their parents after the winning entries are selected.

Deadline for Contest: February 20th, 2017.

Please submit all final school books with entries from each grade in your school to
ENC, P.O. Box 688, Golden, CO 80402

The students' paper statements will be converted into an ebook after the winning entries are determined. The winning school and students will be invited to the ENC Awards Ceremony, along with the JWC Writing Contest winners, in May 2017.
